FORME GOLOSE® BY GUARDINI: DESIGN ON THE TABLE

New materials, technology and inventiveness, even in the kitchen

The line Forme Golose® by Guardini which made its highly successful debut in 2006 with the cake tin FetteXFette® is now enriched with new silicone food moulds.

They are the products of two famous Italian designers, Matteo Ragni and Odoardo Fioravanti. The company is Guardini, who for the past 60 years has been producing oven pans and knows how to interpret creatively the requirements of those who love cooking by making an infinity of forms and colours, the greatest allies of all cooking fans.

New, beautiful, colourful and exciting - this is the line FORME GOLOSE® by Guardini Emozioni.

Ingeniousness, creativity and research. The byword of the new pan line is conjugating the useful with the beautiful. Because taste is not just of the palate but because aesthetics must also play its part.

So... let imagination run riot in the kitchen! The chef is ever more an artist and wants both to create and have to hand the objects best suited to the latest requirements.

The Forme Golose® collection was created bearing in mind all those who enjoy having fun in the kitchen, in an attempt to marry the traditions of 'grandmother's recipes' with the most modern technologies, creating dishes which are both new and appetising.

Whether they be savoury or sweet makes no difference. The first quality silicone for food stuffs of the Forme Golose® line resists in the oven up to 260° C, in the freezer up to -40° C and can also be used in the microwave. Flexible and non-stick, the pans of the Forme Golose® line are easy to wash and to put away after use.
